

November 4, 2008

Local News & Events

Compiled from staff reports

Ag group offering computer basics

The Agriculture and Land-Based Training Association is offering a series of free computer basics courses on from 6 to 8 p.m. Wednesdays Nov. 5 through 25 in English and Spanish.

Classes cover the basics in computer orientation, Word and Excel applications, Internet navigation and e-mail.

The short course is recommended for prospective students interested in taking the farmer education program beginning in December.

The classes will be at ALBA's main office at 1700 Old Stage Road, eight miles south of Salinas.

Information: 831-758-1469.

Monterey law firm has new logo, Web site

LaRiviere Grubman & Payne LLP in Monterey, an intellectual property law firm, is celebrating its 15th anniversary with a new look designed to raise its profile and highlight its global approach to law.

LGP has adopted a new logo and Web site at www.lpgatlaw.com. The re-branding is the result of market research. Working with the brand identity firm Cappelli Miles, LGP examined the values most important to clients, staff and its global network of agents.
